ESTABLISHED 1846. NEWPORT, R. I., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1910. PRICE TWO CENTS.

Where Is It?

On the floor, underneath that pile of papers, or shut up in the desk perhaps, at any rate not in sight and you're ready to settle down for an evening's read. Your case? Then why don't you get

A BOOKCASE

And not let your books lie helter-skelter about your living rooms? Expense surely can't be the drawback, else you don't know bookcase values here.

A SECTIONAL, of course, is the real up-to-date sort to buy—the real practical sort, too; accommodates itself to your needs so easily. Every first-class furniture store that can sells "The Gunn." Practical handlers agree in its being the best stocked, best constructed, most practical. All can't handle it—one in a town, that's all. We're the handlers here. Let us tell you, on the sly, that our Gunn prices are a little lower than anybody sells any other sort of a section case for.

TONGUE AND LIVER.

Good Recipes for Preparing Meats in Appetizing Ways.

New Dishes for Both Luncheon and Dinner Are Easily and Quickly Made.

[Cornelia C. Bedford.]

Spiced Tongue—Select two large fresh beef tongues, wash well, throw them into a kettle of boiling water and simmer gently for two hours; then remove the tongues, skin and trim them neatly. Strain the water in which they were boiled, return them to the kettle, add this water, one half of a pound of raisins, two onions sliced, one sliced carrot, 24 cloves, one half of a teaspoonful of black pepper, a dash of red pepper, two tablespoonfuls of salt, one tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce; simmer gently for two hours longer. Allow the tongues to cool in the liquor; serve them on platters neatly garnished with greens and hard-boiled eggs.

Devilled Tongue—Chop the scraggy pieces of cold boiled tongue rather fine, measure, and to each half pint allow two hard boiled eggs, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a dash of red pepper, 10 drops of onion juice, one ounce of stale bread and about four tablespoonfuls of milk. Take the bread, free from crust, break it into the milk, stand this over a kettle of hot water until the bread is soft and has nicely absorbed the milk; chop the hard boiled eggs very fine, add them to this mixture, add the parsley, pepper, onion juice, and then stir in the tongue; put this into silver or in shells; brush the top with egg, dust with stale bread crumbs put a small bit of butter on top; bake in a quick oven until the mixture is thoroughly hot. If you bake them too long the mixture will be dry.

Boiled Tongue—Wash and soak overnight a nice salted beef's tongue. In the morning cover it with fresh cold water, and simmer gently for 15 minutes to every pound. When done take out, remove the skin, trim off the rougher parts. Roll or roll the tongue around into a neat shape, tie with tape and put away to cool. While the tongue is boiling, make a meat jelly from two pounds of lean beef and a knuckle of veal, covered with two quarts of cold water, and simmer gently for twenty or three hours. An hour before the jelly is done add a sliced onion, a carrot, four whole cloves, a bay leaf and a blade of mace. When done, strain, take the veal from the knuckle and cut into small pieces, return it to the liquid jelly, and season with salt and pepper. This liquid should measure one quart. Place the tongue in an oblong mold, pour over it this liquid containing the veal and stand it in a cold place for 24 hours.

Jellied of Tomato and Tongue—Chop cold pieces of tongue rather fine, one good sized onion put into the bottom of a baking dish a layer of stewed tomatoes, one of tongue and one of onion, then a layer of bread crumbs. Repeat until dish is full having bread crumbs on the top. Dot this with bits of butter and bake for 30 minutes.

Princesse of Calf's Liver—Scald one pound of calf's liver for 15 minutes, drain, cover with boiling water, add a bay leaf and a slice of onion and simmer gently for 20 minutes. Drain, and cut the liver into dice. Put one tablespoonful of butter in a frying-pan to melt, add one tablespoonful of flour. Mix until smooth; add one half of a pint of milk; stir continually until it boils; add one teaspoonful of onion juice, one-half of teaspoonful of salt, one saltspoonful of pepper, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley and the liver; stir until scalding hot and serve.

Liver, Terrapin Style—Boil one pound of calf's liver for an hour, or until tender. When cold cut into squares. Mash the yolks of three hard boiled eggs until smooth, adding gradually four tablespoonfuls of cream. Put one-quarter of a pound of butter and a rounding tablespoonful of flour into a saucepan; melt and mix. Add the gill of cream, and the yolks of the eggs and the liver. Add one half of a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of red pepper, and about one quarter of a teaspoonful of white pepper. Stir over the fire until hot, not boiling; then add four tablespoonfuls of wine and serve at once.

Liver No. 2.—Boil the liver as before, cut into squares. Save the liquor in which it was boiled, and use as little water as possible and cook very slowly, so that when the liver is done, you will have about one-half of a pint of liquor, in which the liver was cooked; Stir constantly until it boils. Add one half of a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper, one quarter of a teaspoonful of white pepper and the liver. Stand this over hot water until the liquor is thoroughly heated. Add four tablespoonfuls of sherry and serve at once.

Braised calf's liver—Wash and wipe the calf's liver well. Slice a small onion and one half of a carrot in the bottom of a braising-pan, add a piece of celery and a sprig of parsley. Lay the liver on this, pour over it one quart of bay stock (river and bake for two and one-half hours in a moderate oven. About 30 minutes before the liver is done add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice. When done, take the liver from the pan, strain the liquor and make a sauce.

Sauce for braised calf's liver—Melt and brown one large tablespoonful of butter; add to it two tablespoonfuls of flour, stir until it is smooth and brown, then add one pint of the liquor strained from the pan, stir until it thickens. Take from the fire, add one tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce; season with salt and pepper and serve.

Sit perfectly still, and the remaining goods of winter will be served.—[Boston Transcript.

BACK GIVES OUT.

Plenty of Newport Readers Have This Experience.

You tax the kidneys—overwork them—

They can't keep up the continual strain.

The back gives out—it aches and pains.

Urinary troubles set in.

Don't wait longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Newport people tell you how they act.

J. B. Caswell, rear of 49 Third Street, Newport, R. I., says: "I was a victim of kidney complaint for a long time. Any strain on the muscles of my back caused pains through different parts of my body and often it was all I could do to straighten after stooping. My kidneys were very weak and I had to rise four or five times at night to pass the kidney secretions. Hearing a great deal about the wonderful cures Doan's Kidney Pills were making in similar cases, I resolved to try them and procured a box at Wright & Hay's Drug Store. This remedy acted directly on my kidneys and by restoring these organs to a condition of health, brought about a speedy cure from the disease which had been gradually robbing me of strength and energy. Should I ever feel in need of a kidney remedy again I would lose no time in getting Doan's Kidney Pills."

PLANNING FOR DEEP SEA RACE.

The Atlantic Yacht Club's Trip to Bermuda May Take Place the Last of June.

The Atlantic Yacht Club is planning to place the deep-sea race to Bermuda for sailing craft on its season's schedule this year, according to a statement made by the regatta committee. According to the present plan the race is to be started June 25, which is the same date set for the power boat race to Bermuda.

The latter race is conducted by the Motor Boat Club of America and it is now the intention of the Atlantic Yacht Club to offer as a starting point for the power boat race, so that the sport lovers may have a chance to see the craft off on the long journey than has before been the case.

The change in the date of both the sailing race and the motor boat race has been made because it was found that the owners could not assemble their crews until that late in the season.

The sailboat race has grown to be one of the chief events in the yacht racing year, and the success scored by the Atlantic Yacht Club last year has led Thomas Fleming Day, its organizer, to seek that organization to handle the big contest again.

Herbert L. Boucher, chairman of the race committee of the Atlantic Yacht Club, says he expects this year's contest to be even more interesting than the one held in 1908. Last year five boats started the first craft to finish being the schooner Amorita, owned by Commodore Baum of the Chicago Yacht Club, on time of 8 days, however, the race was won by the schooner Margaret, the property of George S. Rock, of the New York Yacht Club.

Last year the sailing craft made better time on the run than the motor boats. The conditions of the race this year will not be announced until after the regular meeting of the Atlantic Yacht Club at the Hotel Astor in New York February 14. Mr. Boucher has stated, however, that these conditions would probably be the same as those that governed the contest last year.

In that contest the boats had to be of the bona-fide cruising type of substantial construction, having full decks and water tight cockpits. The race is open to boats of any organized yacht club in the world, and if last year's conditions are observed, the entries will be divided into four divisions. A prize is given in each division and the time allowance will probably be figured on 45 minutes to the foot for the full course.

SUBSCRIBERS WHO DO NOT RECEIVE THEIR PAPERS REGULARLY AND IN GOOD CONDITION SHOULD MAKE COMPLAINT AT THE OFFICE.

SHIPPING FOR SOUTH AMERICA.

It is notorious that many of the consuls feel that they are making themselves strong with their superiors by reporting favorably to the administration policies, and very likely they are right, but the fact greatly impairs the value of their reports.

Some consuls have been seizing upon every opportunity to put in a good word for steamship subsidies, and the report of the consul general at Rio de Janeiro has just been the subject of correspondence between Secretary Knox and some of the shipping interests in New York. The latter have pointed out to the Secretary that the consul general's report gave a totally erroneous impression of the shipping facilities enjoyed by this country and by Europe. Only two steamers a month instead of 16 make the passage from Europe in 15 or 16 days, and the shipping facilities from this country have been frequently increased.

If any one will look at the map he will see that if merchandise went from New York to South America by way of Europe it would not be going far out of the way, but as a matter of fact there are plenty of direct steamers and our exports do not cross the Atlantic twice. Sometimes passengers and mails go by way of Europe because there are a few fast and luxurious steamers from European ports, but there are only a few of these and they carry little or no freight.

A committee from the National Association of Manufacturers which went to South America in 1906 reported that we had good shipping facilities and as low freights as Europe. About four years ago a special agent of the Department of Commerce and Labor reported to the same effect. Many of our consular reports during the past 20 years speak of the increase of sailings between our ports and those of South America and of the equality of freight charges, and the fact that during the past ten years our exports to South America have increased in a great ratio disproves the idea that our exporters are at any disadvantage in that trade.

"THE POLICEMAN AT THE DOOR"

In Cleveland the "policeman at the door" policy is employed for the regulation of saloons and is said to work remarkably well. The idea is whenever a saloon is believed to be breaking the law or in any way doing business contrary to the best interests of the community, to station a policeman at the door of the place to observe all which transpires within and take the names of all who enter as possible witnesses in the prosecution of the proprietor. The result is said to be that within a fortnight the saloon is doing not a stroke of business, for no one enters and all patronage is stopped. The further result is that, knowing what will follow if heed is not given, a warning that such a step may be taken is in most cases sufficient to make the saloon keeper obey the law at least after one experience with the "policeman at the door" plan. Thus the saloon proprietor becomes a peace officer on his own premises and is careful that nothing is done in his place which will be likely to put it under the ban of the police.

For eight years this plan has been in operation in Cleveland under the direction of the chief of police who originated it, and though he has been before the court several times on damage suits he has never lost a case, and it has been pronounced one of the most efficacious methods of compelling obedience to the law ever devised. Its success is shown by the fact that it has been adopted in some other cities of the West and has worked uniformly as well as in Cleveland. The number of arrests is greatly reduced, there is much less trouble with the saloon keepers, and these men are obliged to act as a sort of additional police force, so far as their own premises are concerned, unless they wish to have the special services of a policeman, and none of them are anxious to acquire that distinction.

The net result in Cleveland of the operation of this plan has been the reduction of the number of arrests by about 62 per cent, a remarkable showing in a city of that size, or indeed in any community. To put the conditions in other words cities which have not this method of treatment of saloons are making that proportion of arrests more than they would under that system. Of course the proportion may not hold good exactly in all cities, but there is no reason why it should not be at least approximately good in all which will try the plan and work it faithfully. It would seem as though hardly any municipality or any chief of police would hesitate to adopt the idea, in view of the beneficent results achieved where it has been tried, and yet the plan does not spread rapidly. The trouble is that it requires a man who is thoroughly honest and quite fearless to enforce such a rule, and unfortunately not all chiefs of police in this country are of that calibre.

PRESIDENTIAL ISOLATION.

The President's complaint that "nobody drops in" at the White House and it is a little lonesome, or at least isolated, there, will create general surprise, but the difficulty can be easily remedied if the President is willing. There has been a general impression that the President had too much company, or would have if he did not take pains to keep people away. The vigilance with which the White House has been guarded of late is calculated to foster this impression. Presidents have never kept what one might call an open house, but the Executive Mansion, which was the less name of the residence before the Roosevelt era, was pretty accessible until after Mr. McKinley's death. Under Mr. Roosevelt, whose arrangements have not been greatly changed, a considerable number of policemen are always on duty about the place and a person who wishes to see the President must convince the secretary that the President would be glad to see him.

All this has seemed proper enough if the President were so overrun with office seekers and sightseers that he would never have a minute for himself unless secretaries and assistant secretaries and double guards and policemen served as barriers to be overcome before the President could be reached, but if he finds it at all dull a remedy can be quickly effected. He has simple, but most of us could find a little real duty and allow any one who rings his door bell to be shown into his library or his office. If he would answer the door bell himself it would give the caller a welcome sense of informality and cordiality.

There are few persons so exclusive that they would not be glad to call on the President and spend an evening with him, just to keep him from a sense of isolation. We are a busy people, but most of us could find a little time to cheer up a lonesome President who is in the condition of the couple who had been married just long enough to exhaust each other's resources and not long enough to adjust themselves to a new set of habits. "Wouldn't it be nice if some friend would drop in this evening?" said the wife. "Yes, or even an enemy," grunted the husband.

CONSERVING EDGE ISLAND'S NATURAL RESOURCES.

Not much has been done in this state for the preservation of its natural resources, but a beginning is being made which ought to result in material advantage when these are conserved as they should be. During the past year a survey of some of these has been made, with the result that recommendations have been submitted as to work which might be done with advantage to the state. This is particularly true of the water supply, which it has been learned through this survey can easily be preserved in reservoirs so as to be available in time of drought instead of being allowed to run to waste, as it now does, into the waters of the bay. This is a matter of real importance to the state, inasmuch as a large part of its manufacturing plants outside the city of Providence are dependent upon water for their motive power, and it was conclusively shown last summer, when a drought was experienced, that the conservation of the water supply in this manner would be of vital moment to the interests of the state.

Closely allied with the conservation of the water supply is the preservation of the forests of the state, which is in charge of the state forester. So intimate indeed are the relations of these two interests that it is proposed that they shall receive attention in conjunction. The advantages which would accrue from this course can be appreciated in view of the fact that the water supply is largely dependent upon the extent and condition of the forests. Here, then, are natural resources which ought to be preserved for the welfare of the state, and the matter is of sufficient importance to require action as speedily as it can be given.

FOR MORE AMERICAN WOOL.

The manufacturers of woolen goods are anxious that more wool be grown in this country, particularly in New England. The complaint is made that American manufacturers are unable to secure enough American wool for their industry and that importations are growing in far greater ratio than the native production. It is pointed out that there are 258 sheep to the square mile in the United Kingdom and only 9.6 sheep to the square mile in New England. An increase in sheep raising in New England, it is believed, would be of great advantage to American manufacturers, and would improve the land. The Department of Agriculture has been asked to take steps towards encouraging a more extended raising of sheep throughout the country.

Virginia has been called the mother of Presidents, with New York and Ohio in recent times giving the Southern state a close race for supremacy. Now West Virginia claims to be the mother of Congressmen. Twenty-two men who were born there have served in Congress for other states, including representatives form California, Iowa, Ohio, Tennessee, Missouri, Indiana, Nebraska, Louisiana, Kentucky, North Carolina and Minnesota.

Bishop Whitehead of Western Pennsylvania advises the people of his diocese to deny themselves the pleasure derived from the reading of daily newspapers during Lent, and urges the cause of a "good book" in their place, as being more attuned to the approaching season. What would be the state of the church people at the end of 40 days, if they abstained from reading the news?

John F. Fitzgerald has another chance to make a good mayor of Boston. His former administration was not satisfactory but he has been chosen to serve again and the new charter will give him the opportunity to show that he is capable of better things. Boston hopes he will not fail.

The re-districting bill will continue to be the principal measure of interest before the General Assembly for some time, and after its passage the appointment of the members of the commission will continue to maintain the interest.

It has been said that February is no fool for weather, and today there is little dissent from the feeling that the saying is correct.

Tomorrow will be Shrove Tuesday, or as some prefer to consider it, Pancake day.

No. Winter is not over yet.

THE HABIT OF CHEERFULNESS

[Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine.]

Cheerfulness will attract more customers, sell more goods, do more business with less wear and tear than almost any other quality. Optimism is the greatest business-getter, bigger trader, the greatest achiever in the world. Pessimism has never done anything but tear down and destroy what optimism has built up.

In the business office, as in society everywhere, the favorite is always the cheerful person. Confirmed cheerful people do not waste their vital energy as rapidly as the grumbler or the too often too sad people. They work with much less friction.

Good cheer is a great lubricant; it oils all life's machinery. Shakespeare says:

"A merry heart goes all the day,
Your sad tires in a mile—a."

There is no other life habit which can give such a profitable return in happiness and satisfaction as that of being cheerful under all circumstances. If the resolution to cultivate cheerfulness is strongly made at the very outset, it will not be difficult to form the habit, and it will be the best protection against suffering and disappointment. Cheerfulness is also a great preserver. It adds wonderfully to one's efficiency and increases mental and physical power. It makes hosts of friends, and helps us to be interesting and agreeable.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S SUBSTITUTE.

In 1863 it was decided by President Lincoln and his cabinet that they should send personal substitutes to the front as an example to the country. President Lincoln directed the adjutant general to choose for him a suitable substitute, who Mr. Lincoln requested should be "as nearly a perfect man, physically and morally, as could be found. The adjutant general first saw young J. Summerfield Staples in Washington and explained to him the President's proposition. Staples, who was then 18 years old, accepted instantly and was taken to the White House to meet the President. Borrowing on him his benediction, Mr. Lincoln sent the young soldier to join his regiment. He enlisted in the Second District of Columbia volunteers and served until the close of the war.

THIS BRITISH BUDGET SURE TO PASS.

Pending Premier Asquith's return from the Continent next week, there is no development in the political situation. The indications are, however, that there will be nothing to prevent the early passage of the budget, the only party likely to oppose it being the Officials, numbering about a dozen. The Freeman's Journal, the organ of the Nationalists, published an inspired article declaring that the Redmondites will offer no opposition to the passage of the budget just as it left the last Parliament, because any defects can be remedied in the succeeding budget, while Alfred Lyttleton, the Unionist member of the House of Commons for Leamington, speaking in London, asserted that the House of Lords would stand to its guns and pass whatever budget the Commons sent up.

Two New Aeroplanes Nearly Completed in Providence.

Proposed Change of Date of North Kingstown Election—Visit of the Apostolic Delegate.

The present week will see the completion of two high-grade aeroplanes in Providence. One is a double monoplane of beautiful line which is being constructed for Victor Page and Oliver Light, two men well known in the automobile world. The other is the Otto Herman biplane, which has been in course of construction two months. The latter is so nearly completed that the preliminary tests will probably be made this week. It is intended to have the first trials strictly private. Later Mr. Herman, the inventor expects to give the public plenty of opportunity to see his flying machine cleave the skies. The finishing touches are being given to the biplane in a shop in the second story of the Rhode Island Rotary Engine Company's plant. Mr. Herman's aeroplane is the product of the brain of a skilled mechanic and is a sturdy, though not handsome, machine. It is fashioned largely after the Wright pattern, but has a number of new features, one of which is a five-cylinder rotary engine of novel design. The other aeroplane is of a far more beautiful type than the Herman machine. It was designed by Victor Page of the New England Automobile Journal. He and his partner, Oliver Light, inventor of the L. A. W. motor and superintendent of the R. L. Morgan Truck Company's plant at Worcester, believe the aeroplane will take rank immediately with the best flying machines of the world. Although this machine is technically a biplane, it is in reality a double monoplane. The type of monoplane in which Bleriot flew across the English channel has been transformed into a "double decker" and some advanced features have been added.

An act recently introduced into the lower house of the legislature and now pending before the judiciary committee proposes to change the time of holding the annual election for town officers in North Kingstown from the first Tuesday in June to the Tuesday after the first Monday in November. The date of the annual state election. The act also provides that all officers elected in 1910 shall continue in office till next November, thus extending the tenure of the present town officers about five months. The introduction of this act at this time was a surprise to those who follow the trend of public affairs in that town, and, in fact, it follows the suggestion given just after the last state election, when the town voted to adopt the secret ballot law for town elections. For years North Kingstown has used an open ballot in town elections, and conditions have become such under it as to cause many good citizens have long desired a change to the secret ballot, but not till last November was any attempt made to make the change. The desire for a secret ballot was well emphasized by the size of the vote, its adoption being had by a large majority, all parties supporting it strongly. Many have asserted that the attempt now being made to change the date of the town elections to the date of the state elections is to seek to nullify as far as possible the good effect gained through the adoption of the secret ballot. A town official of North Kingstown declared, since the act was introduced, that it was entirely wrong, and decidedly against the spirit of good government. He declared that the town and state affairs should be as widely separated as possible, and to that end it was to the best interest of the town to have the town and state elections on different days as at present. Whether any direct opposition to the passage of this act which would make the town and state elections come on the same day, will be shown is an open question as yet, though it is evident that many who favored the change to the secret ballot are strongly opposed to the contemplated change.

His Excellency, Most Rev. Diomede Falconio, D. D., Archbishop of Larissa and apostolic delegate to the United States, presided at the dedication of the Church of the Holy Ghost, at Knight street and Atwell's avenue, Providence, Sunday. The impressive ceremonies were witnessed by a large audience. Archbishop Falconio, who is the envoy of Pope Pius at Washington, was assisted by Rt. Rev. Matthew Harkins, D. D., bishop of the diocese of Providence, and several score of priests. In the evening Archbishop Falconio officiated at solemn benediction at SS. Peter and Paul's Cathedral, and imparted the papal blessing to a congregation that completely filled the edifice. Church and State united Saturday night to do honor to the papal representative in this country. Standing with the papal delegate were Governor Pothier and his full military staff, Rt. Rev. Matthew Harkins, D. D., bishop of the Catholic diocese of Providence; the officers of the Catholic Club under whose auspices the reception was given, and Miss Alice Kelley, president of the Catholic Women's Club. Before the beginning of the informal program, Fay's orchestra gave a concert, mostly of popular Italian airs, as a compliment to the distinguished guest of the evening. As the prelates of the church, accompanied by the officers of the Catholic Club, marched into the large hall of the Eloise the orchestra played the Papal hymn and "The Star Spangled Banner." Catholics from all parts of the state gathered to do honor to the special representative in the United States of the head of the church. Men prominent in political, commercial and professional life were present and joined in the hearty welcome tendered Archbishop Falconio.

The work of correcting the examination papers filed out Saturday by the applicants for positions as census enumerators will be undertaken by Supervisor George H. Webb, and the first report will be sent to Washington by the fifteenth of this month. More than 800 persons took the examination at 14 places throughout the state. At the Normal School there were 270, at the English High School in Providence 75 and at Brown University 14. The applications of those who have passed the test will be sent to Washington, with recommendation for appointment. The basis of rating will be 20 per cent for neatness and legibility and 80 per cent for accuracy. Any applicant who loses 10 points for neatness and 50 points for accuracy will not be considered. In rural districts these figures are slightly different. The large number of papers will necessitate some time in correcting and marking them, and it will probably be at least a month before any notices are sent to those who took the test.

Frank H. Lewington, aged 54 years, master mechanic of the American Woolen Company's mills at Harrisville and Pascoag, was instantly killed in the boiler room of the Anchor mill at Pascoag Sunday morning. He was fixing a valve on the mill boiler and was using a crowbar. As he leaned against the rod it slipped and fell. Mr. Lewington lost his balance and went headforemost to the concrete floor, a distance of 10 feet. His neck was broken. Mr. Lewington, who was well known to mill men of the state, was a native of Westbury, England, and came to America when 14 years old, locating in Mapleville. He worked in the mill there, afterward becoming master mechanic at the big mill at Centreville. He had been master mechanic at the Harrisville and Pascoag plants of the American Woolen Company for about nine years. About six years ago Mr. Lewington was one of the founders of the Pascoag Fire Company and was one of its most prominent members until his death. He was a member of the Foresters of America.

John H. Phillips, a clerk for H. S. Rich & Co., Providence, is in a serious condition at his home in Providence, suffering from a fractured skull. Mr. Phillips was standing in the doorway of the building occupied by the firm, when he was struck on the head by a plumb-bob, which fell from the addition being made to the Industrial Trust Company next door. How high the plumb-bob was when the line broke and fell is not known, but it is thought it came from one of the top floors. When it struck Mr. Phillips he fell unconscious to the sidewalk. A number of workmen were on the new addition to the Industrial Trust building, and it has not been ascertained as yet how the accident happened, or who was responsible. It is known that a plumb-line was hanging on the outside of the building with two plumb-bobs attached to it. Either the line slipped through the hands of a workman, or the line snapped and broke, and one of the bobs falling apparently struck the head of Mr. Phillips. It is thought the injury will not prove fatal.

Rev. William Hunter entered upon his duties as pastor of the Stewart Street Baptist Church, Providence, Sunday, and large congregations greeted him at both services. In the evening, after a sermon on "The Relation of Ceremony to Life," emphasizing the origin, meaning and purpose of the Lord's supper, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter received the right hand of fellowship. The church clerk read resolutions from the First Baptist Church, Croton Falls, N. Y., where Mr. Hunter has been pastor for the past seven years. In the morning, Rev. Mr. Hunter preached from the text: "I determined not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ and Him crucified." The subject was "The Preacher's Theme."

Judge Rathbun Declines to Admit the Walker Case.

Decree in Water Works-Gibbs Land Case and the Dennis Appeals Dismissed.

Judge Rathbun presided this morning, it being the February motion day of the superior court. There was a good attendance of local members of the bar, and a few members from Providence were also present. It was not a long or an arduous session, and cases where any real difference between counsel developed were heard and held. In spite of the wind and cold the veteran crier, Judge Topham, was present and officiated as usual. He said he had meditated a long walk "up on the Point," before court opened, but had given that up.

A case of general interest heard at the January motion day, and held, was held at least so far as this court is concerned. It was the petition of Nina Walker vs. James W. G. Walker, in which Mrs. Walker sought separate maintenance and was represented by Messrs. Shurtleff and Harvey, while Mr. Parkes of Providence and Mr. Burdick appeared for Mr. Walker. As this was the case for absolute divorce, the statute permits the court to use its discretion, in view of all the circumstances of the case, as to receiving and considering such a shorter residence here of one year than the two years required by the regular divorce petition requirements.

Mrs. Walker immediately after going from her husband's house put in her petition on what might be called a residence in Newport of one day. It was claimed that she had been in Newport previously, and had not really lived with her husband, although in the same house; but the court refused to admit the case, deciding the residence is not sufficient. A decree was entered dismissing the case. Mr. Harvey was allowed an exception, and if the supreme court decides to consider exceptions taken in divorce matters, a case may be heard from there. Such exceptions have never been considered by the supreme court, but the wisdom of allowing such a practice has been under consideration and may be decided in time to affect this case.

Another matter of interest was that of the Newport Water Works vs. William N. McVickar et alios in which Mr. Levy represented plaintiff and Mr. Burdick defendant. The case was one growing out of the taking by the waterworks of some of the land conveyed under the will of the late Sarah Gibbs, of which defendants are trustees under her will, including severally the bishop of Rhode Island and rector of St. Mary's church. The commissioners had made a report allowing defendants $2,500; deeds in the report were waived, and a decree confirming it was entered, by agreement of counsel.

In the two Dennis cases (William E. Dennis vs. William E. Dennis, Jr.), which were defaulted last December, the appeals were dismissed and the decree of the probate court was confirmed. Mr. Burdick appeared for Mr. Dennis. Mr. Harvey made no objection.

C. F. J. O'Connor vs. John William Sterling, after considerable argument was continued for next motion day. Mr. Curran for defendant, claims that it is not true she may not be sued as a trustee. He desired an immediate hearing, while Mr. Levy wished the case to go over. Mr. Curran said it could be no hardship to go on, for the case had been under consideration two years after he had given notice of his motion.

In Bellevue Realty Company vs. John William Sterling et al., Mr. Burdick for defendant, submitted to judgment on the pleadings.

Mr. H. Barkly Baker, counsel for defendant, brought up the case of Nathan Dawley vs. Old Colony Street Railway Company, which had been decided for plaintiff in the district court. Mr. Burdick appeared for plaintiff. Mr. Baker desired to withdraw his special plea and go to trial only on the "general issue." He said the case begins anew in this court, and he could be permitted to try it on any plea he chose. The statute allows filing additional pleas. Mr. Burdick said this is a case of trespass quare clausum fregit in which defendant had pleaded possession ("freehold") and the plaintiff had admitted it and said he was a tenant—and won his case in the district court. It is the freehold of defendant the plea sets forth the fact, and the case should be tried here as it was in the lower court. To change would require change in the replication, and possibly the bringing in of new parties. Briefs are to be filed by February 16. It is held that the rule applicable to this case is different, for cases of this particular sort, from that in other cases.

In the Owens case of Grinnell vs. Sherman, it appeared had an agreement as to attorney fees, and the court acted accordingly.

In the case of Charles E. Stark vs. [illegible] and others, there was no jury trial. It is an action for $115,000 and $75,000 in [illegible] the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Company have been attached. It is sought to secure a judgment the attachment is void, because the money is there as security for the performance of a contract to buy certain stock, and is not subject to the order of [illegible]. It was contended, now, that it was similar to a partnership one partner can attach the property of another; also, that a bond could take the place of the attachment, if it is not valid. The court could ignore it and order the money to be delivered to the plaintiffs will be submitted. It was made a party defendant, Mr. Levy specifying that it [illegible] a trustee.

The court adjourned to meet [illegible] to-day.

CONFERENCE REPORTS.

Y. M. C. A. Boys Give an Account of Their Trip to Holyoke and the Convention.

An interesting meeting of the boys of the Young Mens Christian Association was held Sunday afternoon in the association building, when the delegates to the recent conference at Holyoke made their reports. About 30 boys, secretary and Boys' Secretary Jackson in charge. Each of the ten boys had some particular part of the work of the convention to report upon, some reading written and others verbal reports, and the recitals were interspersed by anecdotes of many interesting things which occurred to some of the delegates during the trip. At the conclusion of the reports, Rev. G. A. Hibbert of the United Congregational church gave a stirring ten-minute address.

Following this meeting the delegates went to the men's meeting and gave some of their report. At the latter meeting General Secretary Chapin gave the third in his series of Hearth Talks to Men, the subject being "A Wrestling Match in the Dark."

HIGH STANDARD MAINTAINED.

Third Degree Worked by Local Council of Knights of Columbus, Followed by a Social.

The work of the third degree was exemplified Sunday at Odd Fellows' hall by the working team of the Knights of Columbus, before a gathering which included many visiting brothers from other parts of the state, this work always bringing together many who are interested in the order, because of its beauty. As performed Sunday, it showed that the high standard set by other Councils was fully maintained. It goes without saying that Newport Council was largely represented. The work was in charge of District Deputy Joseph A. Carroll of Providence, and other district deputies present were Robert A. Smith of Woonsocket, William J. McCormick of this city and John A. Riley of Providence.

After the work in the lodge room, which lasted from 2:30 to 6:30, a collation was served in the dancing hall below by Tobin & Bradley, after which the visiting officials and members were entertained at the Knights of Columbus Club, where there was a social, with C. W. B. Callahan as master of ceremonies. There was an abundance of talent among the visiting members, and despite the cold weather outside the visitors and the local members had an enjoyable day.

"THE WORLD AND HIS WIFE."

Too Tragic a Play to be Enjoyable, But Professor Crosby's Rendition a Masterly Effort.

Professor Thomas Crosby, Jr., of Brown University read the modern play, "The World and His Wife," in the Young Men's Christian Association hall Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Women's Alliance of the Channing Memorial Church. There was an audience which filled the room, and which listened with close attention to his masterly reading of the play. According to Professor Crosby's statement at the beginning, it might not be called great, but its [illegible] are too dramatic and intense to be really enjoyable. While there was some criticism of the reading of this or that, there was no dissent from the approval of Professor Crosby's work. He portrayal was regarded as on the highest plane of dramatic art, the strongly tragic passages giving opportunity for a display of his dramatic ability. Professor Crosby's readings are always pleasing, however one may regard the play.

TO GO TO ANNAPOLIS.

Philip Rider Weaver of This City Appointed a Midshipman by Senator Wetmore.

Senator George Peabody Wetmore has appointed Philip Rider Weaver of this city a midshipman at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, to take the place of Halsey Barton of Providence, who has resigned. Mr. Weaver, who is a student at the Rogers High School, was first alternate when Barton received the appointment. He is a son of the late Philip R. Weaver of this city, who for many years was a bookkeeper at the state institutions at Cranston, and has been making his home with his uncle, Mr. Benjamin C. Weaver, in this city. At the Rogers he has taken a prominent part in the athletic and social activities of the school.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY PAPERS.

The members of the Newport Horticultural Society have arranged for the next meeting a series of papers on the general subject of "Exhibitions," by various members, which will undoubtedly prove not only interesting but instructive as the writers have had experience in the special lines on which they will speak which will give them an authoritative hearing. Mr. James Robertson, president of the society, will speak on "Exhibitions—Their Utility and Mission," Mr. John P. Hammond's subject will be "Preparing Material for Exhibition." Mr. Bruce Butterton will speak on "Arranging the Exhibits in the Hall," Mr. Richard Gardner will speak and "Judging" and Mr. James Forbes on "How to Secure the Attendance of the Public."

PROBATE COURT.

In the probate court this morning the will of Catherine Johnson was proved and letters testamentary thereon were granted to Henry N. Jeter. An exemplified copy of the will and probate of Martha T. Fiske Collord was ordered filed and recorded and the matter of granting letters testamentary on the estate in Rhode Island was continued for further hearing. Letters of administration on the estate of Michael F. Walsh were granted to William H. Sullivan. Petitions for sale of real estate by guardians of John Nicholas Brown, and of William T. A. and Ella C. Rogers, were granted. The first and final account of the guardian of Ella Augusta Smith was allowed and the resignation of the guardian was accepted. The discharge to the guardian of Carl Frederick von Gorrissen was ordered recorded and the original returned to the former guardian.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Powell have gone to New Haven for a visit.

Miss Margaret Crowther has returned from a visit to Boston.

—The coming merger of the express companies is expected to make some changes in the local offices.

cannot be punished twice for the same offence will hold good in this case. My son already has been reprimanded by Secretary Meyer, and we accept that as sufficient punishment. The court-martial came afterward, when we least expected it. I will not discuss the case further than to say that I am here to see that my son receives fair play."

BLACK HANDS OUTWITTED.

Two Alleged Agents Arraigned in East New York Police Court.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Two alleged agents of the Black Hand found themselves today under arraignment in an East New York police court as the result of the bravery of an old-time Italian gendarme. Antonio Impastato, Impastato lives near his friend, Joseph Ferraro, a well-to-do East New Yorker, who recently has been bombarded with letters threatening that his house would be blown up unless he paid $500 to the Black Hand.

Ferraro consulted Impastato. The wily old Italian gendarme had a plan. "Let them meet you at my house" was his advice. Ferraro made the appointment. Last night two men called. Ferraro and Impastato greeted them cordially and treated them to wine. Ferraro gave one of them a marked $20 bill, promising to pay all later. The health of the Black Hand was drunk. As the men turned to leave they confronted Impastato's leveled revolver. The former gendarme marched them at the pistol's point to the police station, where they were locked up and held for a hearing today.

A CONTEST OF ENDURANCE.

New York's Price Crusade Foreshadows Trouble for Combines.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—With extreme cold weather tending to drive quotations up and the first wave of enthusiasm in the crusade against high food prices needing the campaign in metropolitan territory settled down today to something like an endurance contest.

The week opened, however, with prospects of trouble for the combines alleged to be illegally keeping up rates for the necessaries of life through misuse of cold storage and by other means. New York and New Jersey renewed activities in the campaign. Attorney General O'Malley of New York state is credited with the intention to invoke an old injunction against the packing companies, granted in the supreme court in 1902, and forbidding them from fixing meat prices and preventing competition by agreement as to rates and supply. This is said to be still in force. Regulative ordinances introduced in the New York board of aldermen and aimed particularly at alleged cold storage evils, are to be pressed for passage.

In New Jersey the Hudson county grand jury today continued its inquiry into the business of the great storage warehouses of Jersey City.

IN THE THEATRES.

The new pictures at the Bijou Theatre for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are "A Sister's Sacrifice," "Over the Wire," a comedy based on a marriage ceremony by wire; "Towser's New Job," in which a trained dog performs most of the labor about a hotel; "Hunting in the Haunted Woods," introducing novel features; "Glimpses of An Indian Village," showing braves in their war dress, Indian babies, etc. The illustrated songs will be by Miss Dora Hayler, who returns to The Bijou this week for a short engagement, singing "Highland Mary," one of the latest songs, and Mr. Arthur Lynn, the Scotch tenor.

At the Star the new pictures are "The Magic Flower," "The Skipper's Yarn," "A Georgia Possum Hunt," "Our German Cousin" and "Shooting an Oil Well." There are illustrated songs by Mr. Earl P. Colby and Miss Mabel Berrar and Mr. George Kaline, German comedian, completes the bill.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Dr. Charles Hickman, one of the most prominent physicians in the South, brother of Tracy L. Hickman, president of the Graniteville Manufacturing Company was found dead from gunshot wounds last week on the streets of Summerville, the fashionable suburb of Augusta, Ga. Three shots were heard. There were two wounds, one in the head and one in the body. The pockets had been rifled and Dr. Hickman's watch had been torn from his waistcoat. There is no clue to the murderer. Dr. Hickman was well known here having spent the season of 1908 at the Allen cottage and as a personal friend of Mr. George Stevens, of Augusta, who owns a cottage on Greene lane.

Capt. Elmer E. Keeler is tied up to Perry wharf awaiting better weather to take her tow to the westward.

Miss Delano of Boston is guest of friends on the Island.

This morning thermometers at various points on the Island registered from 2 to 4 degrees below zero, while others registered 5 below, the coldest during the night. At noon it was considerable warmer, the thermometer registering 11 above. The high northwest wind which accompanied the drop in temperature makes the cold felt, it being the severest weather of the winter.

RESULT OF REVIVAL SERVICES.

As a result of the recent revival services at the Mt. Olivet Baptist Church, the pastor, Rev. W. G. Read, Sunday baptized 31 and received 60 persons into fellowship. The baptismal service took place in the afternoon at the First Baptist Church, whereas audience of impressive size the auditorium was present. Rev. E. A. Johnson, D. D., pastor of the latter church, assisted in the service. Rev. Mr. Read preaching a sermon from Matthew III:13-15. At the close of the sermon Mr. Read made a personal address to those who were to receive the rite of baptism. Miss Hattie Spottswood sang the solo "Over Death's Dark Sea" and the rite was administered by Rev. Mr. Read, the choir singing a number of anthems during this part of the service.

In the evening at the Mt. Olivet Church 60 persons were received into the membership including those who had been baptized in the afternoon and others who had been baptized in other places and are now making their homes in Newport, and have adopted the Mt. Olivet as their home church.

THE SEAL CHANGES HANDS.

That seal has at length been disposed of, and the price of seals has been dropped from the local curio market. At one time it was feared that Janitor Boardley was holding out for too much, his price asked was so far in advance of the price bid, but apparently he had a better idea of the seal market than others; at least he had all the seals there were. He has not now, for Councilman Lawson is displaying that seal—if the frost lets him with a sign that Cook got it at the North Pole. There are members that the Danes say there is no proof that Cook ever was at the North Pole.

SIGN PERMANENT PEACE PACT.

Warring Chinese Tongs' Threatened Nation-Wide Feud Ended.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 7.—Ten days before the expiration of a temporary truce, the On Yicks and the Yee family, two Chinese tongs whose war the last four months has cost ten lives, signed a permanent peace pact in this city last night at the office of the "Six Companies." The war, which started here, spread throughout California. Members of the warring tongs fled from the local Chinese quarter and sought safety in interior towns, but they were quickly followed by gunmen and forced to continue their flight, some going to Denver and others farther west.

A nation-wide feud was threatened, but a summary imperial edict from the Chinese government, issued through the Chinese minister at Washington, put a quietus on the spreading hostilities. The edict set forth that unless the two tongs ceased their fighting they would be prosecuted here and their relatives in China made to suffer. This mandate brought about the temporary truce. The Chinese here will celebrate the declaration of peace at their new year festival Tuesday.

"THE BARNYARD ROMANCE."

Rostand's Unusual Play, "Chantecler," the Sensation of Paris.

PARIS, Feb. 7.—The fiend seems today to have been suddenly superseded as the sensation of Paris by "Chantecler," which was presented at the Porte St. Martin Theatre last night for the first time. The daily papers printed more about the performance than they did of the details of the misery and havoc wrought by the recent catastrophe. The critics are unanimous that as a poem of lyric beauty "Chantecler" is unsurpassed, and that it is Rostand's most unusual play. All pay tribute to the marvelous ingenuity with which the author depicts the play of human weaknesses in "the barnyard romance," but manifest doubt whether it will prove a popular dramatic success. The American critics fear that the delicate French flavor will be wholly lost in translation.

FINANCIALLY EMBARRASSED.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 7.—United States Senator T. P. Gore of Oklahoma arrived in St. Louis last night in a state of great financial embarrassment—in fact, he was compelled to borrow money of a stranger on the train to pay his fare from Washington to St. Louis. His predicament came about, he admitted to friends who heard his appeal for a loan in this city, because he boasts of two pairs of trousers—one he had on; the other, with his wallet in the hip pocket, occupied the post of honor in the Senator's boudoir at the Capitol. Summoned back to Oklahoma by an urgent message Saturday night, he hastily donned the trousers in which he likes to appear before his constituents and hurried for the train.

—The telephone men ran an aerial trunk cable on Broadway this morning, in spite of the cold. Starting at Cranston avenue, the cable contains 200 pairs of wires, and from Giles road out will contain 100 pairs. At frequent intervals along the line the cable will enter cable boxes, from which laterals will be led out to provide telephone service to the houses in the neighborhood.

BRAYTON'S PROMINENCE.

Re-Districting and Salary Increase Bring Him to the Front.

Measures of Importance Beginning to be Reported Back from Committees.

[Providence correspondence of the News]

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 5.—General Charles R. Brayton has figured large in the State House proceedings this week. First came the alleged discovery that he was making up the commission which is to do the districting work under the authority of the amendment to the constitution adopted at the last election. This did not strike many people who know how things are done and the influence which General Brayton has in politics as very novel, but it served to make him the central figure in the gossip about the State House. It is not regarded as anything new for General Brayton to make up committees and commissions, inasmuch as he has been doing that for more years than most people in the state have known much about politics. Meanwhile, the governor has stated that he alone is to make up this districting commission and that, too, is correct because the act providing for the districting requires that the chief executive shall do this. Still, there is a difference between making the appointments and selecting those who shall be appointed, and it would be only according to the usual program for the governor to do the former and the "boss" to attend to the latter. That is what those who are familiar with the conditions now expect and have expected would be the course to be pursued.

Incidentally, there was surprise in some quarters that no opposition to this districting bill was made by the Democrats when a hearing was held on the matter one day during the week, but the fact was simply that the Democrats decided to withhold their opposition until the measure comes back to the house itself, when they will express their opinion. The result of the decision was that only two persons spoke on the subject at the hearing, and these were Republicans and of course were in favor of the measure.

The second incident of the week which brought General Brayton into the limelight more prominently than usual was the distribution of a circular written by him, in which he opposed the proposition to increase the salary of the lieutenant governor from $500 to $1,500 on the ground that few states pay any such salary as the latter figure, and ending with the suggestion that the increase be to $750. The circular was taken as an attack on the present lieutenant governor, Zenas W. Bliss, and created considerable surprise and not a little wonder among the members of the legislature and state officials. Some, however, interpreted it as a public notice from Brayton that Lieutenant Governor Bliss had been allowed to go as far as he would be permitted in his political career and there would be for him no succession to the gubernatorial chair, although by his present office he might be considered the logical candidate for the higher place. At all events, it can be regarded as certain that General Brayton did not take this unusual and summary way of expressing his views upon this salary measure of no very large compass without some motive, and it is probable enough that that motive will become evident before long. Those who believe it was intended as a notice to Mr. Bliss that he is at the height of his political career say Brayton has also put up Representative Rice Allen of Newport for the nomination for governor in the next state campaign, for the reason that he is well supplied with the sinews of war, which are always welcome in a political campaign.

As usual, many bills are being introduced but few are coming back yet from the committees. A number of important new measures were presented this week, among them being an act to prevent the white slave traffic in this state, which was introduced by Representative Cutler of this city at the suggestion of President Taft, and providing for special attorneys in divorce cases, and requiring that all vehicles shall carry lights at night, and the bakery inspection bill. These were referred to the appropriate committees in the branches where they were presented and will be heard from in due time.

Two measures of general interest came back from committees during the week, the bill for the licensing of homes for the care of infants and that for the repeal of the law requiring the advertising of the public laws in the newspapers. The former was amended in the committee to exempt from its provisions specially chartered institutions engaged in the care of infants, and this has not yet been acted upon by the senate, in which it was introduced. The other has been passed by the senate though it seems probable that it will find favor to such an extent in the house. This bill was presented by Senator Clarke of Jamestown as a measure of economy and has met surprising support in the upper branch.

The act for the creation of a commission to build the Pawtucket-Central Falls bridge has been under discussion this week, both in the legislature and in the courts. At the State House the hearing on the proposed amendment of the act was resumed and the same ground was gone over as at other hearings. There is, however, practically no possibility of any action being taken by the legislature regarding it until the court has come to some decision in regard to the case. In fact the chief interest in the matter is now centered in the court proceedings rather than in those of the legislature, though there will undoubtedly be plenty of interest in the legislative action as soon as the legal tangles have been straightened.

The pure food and drug commission recently sent an invitation to the bakers of the state to meet the board one day this week for a discussion of the pure food law from their point of view, but no one responded. Whether this failure to accept the invitation indicates a lack of interest in the matter or an unwillingness to reveal to the commission the way the business is conducted does not appear, but the fact remains that the opportunity to meet the board was not improved and now that body will proceed upon its own initiative and perform its duties without the assistance of the bakers.

A hearing was held this week upon the act for the regulation of billboards, at which the advocates of the law were chiefly residents of this city, including the mayor and the city solicitor. Some opposition was expressed to the measure in behalf of the bill posters, but little intimation was given as to the probable action of the legislature upon the bill. The city solicitor of Providence gave expression to a plain truth, however, when he asserted that this bill would be presented every year until it was passed and each successive legislature could only postpone the inevitable day when it would be adopted.

The adjutant general has returned his report in an amended form, as directed by the senate. This time it seemed as though that official had covered about everything in the statements made, but even now the report is regarded as not explicit enough and is likely to go back to him again for still further information. Somehow the senate seems to be very insistent upon knowledge concerning the conduct of the military department of the state administration this year, and to be determined to find out all it can concerning this matter.

The annual report of the shellfish commission created considerable interest by the statement that the state receives a large income from that source, the figures being given as $111,000 annually. Few persons probably who have not had occasion to keep closely in touch with this industry had any idea that such a revenue was derived from this product of the state.

With one-third of the session already passed there seems as yet no disposition to accelerate the pace at which the legislature is moving in its conduct of its business. Little real progress has been made and little actual result of the first five weeks of session is in evidence. It is always thus and no one seems to care much, and so the same old story is told from year to year. The body is bound to sit the full allotted time for which pay can be drawn, and it matters little perhaps how the time is occupied so long as mischief is not found for idle hands to do.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average baldheaded man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A person having bald patches on the head, hence, invariably is afflicted with Dandruff germs, and if the condition totally bald in five years. To rid the scalp of these germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

"No hair, no cause—you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

ENTIRE EAST IN GRIP OF WINTER.

at 8 a. m. The lowest point previously registered by the mercury of the official thermometer at the weather bureau was 5 above, January 5. The Arctic wave was ushered in by a gale reaching 40 times a 40-mile-an-hour velocity and continuing even after sun-up today, but 12 miles an hour below the maximum.

Below-zero temperatures were plentifully registered on street thermometers, while in suburban territory the mercury sank many degrees below, and from points up state came word of drops of from 16 to 20 degrees, with scattering reports of even greater falls from the zero mark. The entire East, in fact, today was in the grip of the winter's best effort to beat the record. Along the Atlantic coast the wave of frigidity was felt to an extent not experienced for several years, the combination of zero temperatures with gales as high as those prevailing not often being recorded.

More than 500 persons were sheltered last night in New York's municipal lodging house, and greater numbers than were driven to ask aid even during the great blizzard of 20 years ago were accommodated in the municipality's various charitable institutions.

The cold weather today was responsible for an explosion and fire and the injury of three persons, one of whom will die. Frozen during the night, the boiler in Max Herzkes's restaurant in West Twenty-eighth street blew up shortly after a fire was built under it today. A gas range was returned and fire followed. The explosion wrecked the restaurant and threw the proprietor, his wife, Annie, and the woman cook unconscious to the floor. Before firemen could rescue them all three had been burned. Mrs. Herzkes fatally. The customers in the place were unhurt, but several of the waitresses were slightly injured.

TWO FROZEN IN PHILADELPHIA.

Cold Extreme in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—Extremely cold weather prevails today throughout eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware. The bodies of two men were found on the streets of this city during the night, both having been frozen to death. In some of the mountain sections of Pennsylvania the mercury fell 10 degrees below the zero mark. The minimum temperature in Philadelphia was 5 degrees above zero at 7 a. m.

SEVERAL RECORDS BROKEN.

All New England Shivering with Below-Zero Temperatures.

BOSTON, Feb. 7. It looked today as if the New England ground hog, who was driven back into his hole for another winter's sleep, was right after all, for the entire section shivered today with below-zero temperature, driven in by a northwest gale. It was the severest cold experienced for more than a month, and several records were broken for temperatures at this season of the year. The thermometer dropped gradually in this city after noon yesterday, and at midnight it stood at 5 below zero. There was no alteration in the reading for more than eight hours, but as the wind kept right up to a 25-mile-an-hour pace, the night was a stiff one and morning brought no relief.

Official temperatures for the rest of New England showed Eastport and Nantucket to be the warmest points, and northern Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont the coldest. At 8 a. m. it was 2 above at Eastport, and 2 above at Nantucket, while the temperatures at the other points were: Northfield, Vt., 14 below; Greenville, Me., 16 below; Portland, Me., 2 below; Concord, N. H., 6 below; Hartford, Conn., 2 below, and Block Island, zero.

The cold wave brought inconvenience to passengers on railroads, as many locomotives had hard work making steam, and delays were frequent. Warmer weather is predicted for tomorrow.

LOWEST OF THE WINTER.

Marlboro Maintains Reputation with Mark of Sixteen Below.

MARLBORO, Mass., Feb. 7.—This city, one of the coldest spots in eastern Massachusetts, maintained its reputation today, when the mercury fell to 16 degrees below zero. This is the lowest point reached this winter on the hills on which the city is located.

COLD IN THE ADIRONDACKS.

Thermometers in Northern New York Read 20 to 30 Below Zero.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Feb. 7.—The cold wave which swept over the Adirondacks yesterday continued today. Thermometers registered 20 degrees below zero in this city and Malone, and 30 below at Saranac Lake and Upper Chateaugay Lake.

HIGHER SPEED ORDERED.

Men Still at Work Trying to Reach Bodies in St. Paul Mine.

CHERRY, Ill., Feb. 7.—Orders were issued today by the managers of the St. Paul mine to work at higher speed to reach the bodies of the 158 victims of last November fire. Yesterday 6 bodies were seen, and 40 brought out, but as the workmen were obliged to remove the bodies the roof of the passageway fell.

CANTON OFFICIALLY COLDEST.

Arctic Weather Affects Even the South, Where Frost Is Predicted.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Almost every state on the Atlantic seaboard today is experiencing the coldest weather of this winter, while the temperature in the West and the Northwest is rising. Canton, N. Y., at 8 o'clock this morning had a temperature which is in fact approximately the weather which exists at the North Pole than any other place in the United States. At Canton the official thermometer of the weather bureau indicated 22 degrees below zero. The cold extends far into the South, where tonight frost will be felt as far south as northern Florida, weather officials say. Warmer weather is promised for tomorrow throughout this section.

QUARANTINE LIFTED.

Twenty-five Cases of Small Pox Reported in Wakefield Epidemic.

WAKEFIELD, Mass., Feb. 7.—The small pox quarantine which has been on in the schools, library and other public buildings several weeks, was lifted today. The epidemic broke out 25 cases were reported.

BOSTON'S MAYOR INDUCTED.

Fitzgerald First to Serve the City Under the New Charter.

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—In Faneuil Hall John F. Fitzgerald, first mayor of Boston under the new city charter, which provides for a four-year term, was today inducted into office. The nine members of the city council elect take the place of the old board of aldermen and common council were also sworn in.

Promptly at the hour fixed for the ceremonies, held in some haste with the inauguration of a day early, this city began at 10:30 a. m. Old Faneuil Hall was filled to overflowing when Mayor-elect Fitzgerald and his family arrived. Mr. Fitzgerald, George A. Hibbard, the retiring executive chief, Justice Rugg of the supreme court, Rev. Father Lord, Bishop Lawrence, former mayors of Boston, foreign consuls and others were seated on the armory platform.

On the platform in the main hall the members of the new city council took their places and City Clerk John T. Priest called for roll. Walter Ballantine, who as senior member presided over the council, performed his first duty by appointing a committee to inform the city council that the city council had convened and was waiting to be sworn in. City Messenger Edward Leary then led the committee to the mayor-elect, who was then escorted to the platform with the guests. Rev. Father Rungee opened the ceremonies with prayer. The audience arose and Chief Justice Rugg administered the oath of office to Mr. Fitzgerald, who, in turn, administered the oath to each of the other members of the city council.

Among the guests were Archbishop William H. O'Connell (Catholic), Bishop William Lawrence (Episcopal), Bishop W. F. Mallalieu (Methodist Episcopal), former Governors John L. Bates and Curtis Guild, Jr., Mayor Clifford of Brockton, Mayor White of Lawrence and other Massachusetts mayors. After the exercises Mayor Fitzgerald held a reception in his office in the city hall, and later in the day gave a dinner to the city council.

ON THE MARCH TO GONDOKORO.

Roosevelt Hunters Given Severe Test of Physical Endurance.

NIMULE, Uganda Protectorate, Feb. 7.—The ten days' march to Gondokoro was begun by the Smithsonian African scientific expedition today. The first camp will be at the Assa River, 12 miles north of this place, if the plans of the party do not miscarry. The location of the camp site is good and well adapted to the convenience of the explorers, but the path lies through an uninhabited district and the porters were today well burdened with food supplies. The distance from Nimule to Gondokoro is, roughly speaking, 120 miles, and this stage of the expedition will be as severe a test of physical endurance as the party has had.

News from Colonel Roosevelt and the others of his expedition will be meagre for the next ten days, for they have now entered a country not interspersed by telegraphic wires.

Gondokoro is a village of the Soudan on the upper Nile. Here the launch of General Sir Reginald Wingate, sirdar of the Egyptian army, will be waiting and the party will embark probably February 18 for the trip down the Nile to Khartoum. Khartoum will be reached about March 6, and three days will be spent there, after which the start for Cairo will be made.

A NUMBER RETURN TO WORK.

Steel Strikers, However, Report Large Additions to Their Ranks.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Pa., Feb. 7.—Large additions to the ranks of the 3,000 strikers at the Bethlehem steel works were reported today by the committee of strikers as the result of picketing last night and early this morning. From a high official of the steel company it was learned that a number of the strikers who were at the mass meeting yesterday returned to work today.

SCIENTISTS ENTHUSIASTIC.

Geographic Society to Consider Arctic Club's South Pole Offer.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Whether the National Geographic Society will accept the offer of the Peary Arctic Club of New York and join it in a joint expedition for the discovery of the South Pole with steamer Roosevelt will be decided tomorrow afternoon by the board of directors of the Geographic Society at a special meeting. The suggestion made by Commander Peary has been received with enthusiasm, and scientists feel that the undertaking will be successful.

QUIET AT FACTORIES.

For First Time in Weeks No Shirt-Waist Makers Arrested.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—Peace having been declared between the shirt-waist manufacturers of this city and their striking employes, quiet prevailed today in the vicinity of the factories, and for the first time in eight weeks the police were not called on to arrest strikers. Under an agreement ratified by the workers yesterday the operatives will return to work Wednesday. The agreement provides for arbitration, partial recognition of the Shirt-waist Makers' Union and shorter working hours.

CROSS-COUNTRY RUN PROMISED.

Thousands of Spectators to See Paulhan's New Orleans Flights.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 7.—Preceding the expected flights of Louis Paulhan today, the Franco-American citizens of New Orleans united in paying further tribute to the aviator in receptions and social events. The promise of a cross-country run today drew thousands of spectators to the city park track.

11—A precipitate decline brought the level of the market from 1 to 3 points below Saturday's closing. Cornering of shorts and strong support had caused a recovery of about half this loss when another break carried prices to a lower basis than before. The metal group and the high priced rails stocks were the weak features. American Smelting dropped 3⅝, Westinghouse Electric 3, Southern Pacific and Amalgamated Copper 2¾, Reading, Lackawanna Gas, Rock Island and American Sugar 2½, Chesapeake & Ohio 2¾ and Union Pacific, St. Paul, United States Steel and American Car 2.

Noon—Money on call, steady, at 2½ per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4½ to 5 per cent. There was a brief pause in the decline, but it was renewed and losses were widely extended. Reading, Southern Railway preferred, Utah Copper and Westinghouse Electric fell 4, Amalgamated Copper 2¾, United States Steel 2½, Chesapeake & Ohio 3¾, Southern Pacific 3¼, Rock Island 3⅛, Union Pacific 3, and several other stocks 2 to 2½. Bonds were irregular.

WASTED A FORTUNE ON SKIN TROUBLE

"I began to have an itching over my whole body about seven years ago and this settled in my limb, from the knee to the toes. I went to see a great many physicians, a matter which cost me a fortune, and after I noticed that I did not get any relief that way, I went for three years to the hospital. But they were unable to help me there. I used all the medicines that I could see but became worse and worse. I had an inflammation which made me almost crazy with pain. I did not know what to do. I was so sick and had become so nervous that I positively lost all hope.

"Finally I decided to use the Cuticura Remedies and, after having used two sets of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills, the entire inflammation had gone. I was completely cured. I should be only too glad if people with a similar disease would come to me and find out the truth. I would only recommend Cuticura. Mrs. Bertha Sachs, 1621 Second Ave., New York, N. Y., Aug. 20, 1909."

OLD BEACH ROAD WIDENING.

Opposed as Unbearable, Expensive, Dangerous and to Double Liability.

To the Editor of The News:

Sir: I understand it is proposed mistakenly that a proposal may come since to straighten Old Beach road at its junction with the Bellevue place, so-called pasted. It is quite inconsiderable from my own point of view, and from that of all the people of this neighborhood with whom I have spoken, that such a proposal can have in it either reality or destiny. It would certainly carry with it a very considerable expenditure, which under such circumstances would be wholly unjustified.

The change in the direction of the course of a vehicle at this point is but 15 degrees not only in this change of direction in very slight, but a vehicle in any part of the road is visible from any other part, and it descends the hill at the eastern end.

I hear such a change is favored by the fire department. If so, why should not the department demand that every corner in Newport be rounded off. As most Newport streets meet at right angles, they require an alteration of a driver's course six times as great, and many such times more difficult, than that in Old Beach road.

As to the danger from motor cars, it is just eight times worse not there, it would be better that it should be. It [illegible] which [illegible] as it would make it a [illegible] and greatly to add danger now existing. A [illegible] at many collisions this road. It is well, that there should be a point in it which requires a little slowing up. There would be vastly more danger to those little people if this object should be just sufficient to require a slight slowing, be taken off.

This destructiveness of the rural quality of Newport which seems to have seized the minds of some leaders in for the prosperity of the place. Make Newport a city of the ordinary type, and it will most certainly lose its attraction for those who now make it a [illegible] prosperity. To move the [illegible] wall at this point, which is [illegible] Bellevue in Newport, most charming [illegible] in Newport, the color of which, the result of a [illegible] of growth, would be entirely lost in any [illegible] would be vandalism.

I for one protest strongly against the waste of [illegible] which would be made if [illegible] for a [illegible] in the middle of [illegible] road. I [illegible] chanting [illegible] and [illegible] slowly [illegible] motor car speeds or if [illegible] it would [illegible] the [illegible] danger of [illegible] to the [illegible] of [illegible] which [illegible] and the [illegible] of [illegible] or [illegible] the [illegible] or [illegible].

[illegible] I would say that it is [illegible] some [illegible] without [illegible] [illegible] by an [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
